Come All Who Are Thirsty: In Search of a God-Centered Life Ginette Daniels

I am Rachel bat Moshe ve Semha. My friends call me Ginette. I am the great-grand-daughter of an orthodox rabbi. I have a deep love for God. I have a Jewish soul and I have a love for Jesus. Yes, my journey to holiness has been full of surprises. After a lifetime of living and learning and loving and losing and listening, God has tapped me on the shoulder and said, "Have you met my Son Jesus? I think it is about time the two of you had a conversation." I did and we have been talking ever since. But, as I make this journey to Jesus, I know that it has been a lifetime in the making. I am proud to say Hineni (here I am) to my God, to my Jewish roots, and to my love for Jesus. It all makes me who I am. God has waited patiently for me to come to Him as He does for all who seek Him with an open heart. My faith is reenergized, my love for God and my brothers and sisters is boundless and my blessings overtake me. So, my fellow spiritual seekers, what are you waiting for? Shake off your complacency, your despair, your busyness, your worries, and come all you who are thirsty. Come all who are looking for a God-centered life filled with meaning and purpose and joy. Join me and come to Jesus and the living waters of God's love.
